Leadership and Policy Change Planning

Introduction

Leadership and Policy Change Planning are fundamental pillars in shaping the success of both public and private institutions. In today's fast-changing political, economic, and social environment, leaders and decision-makers must be able to adapt, design flexible policies, and implement strategies that respond to emerging challenges.

This course is designed for executives, team leaders, and professionals across the Middle East and North Africa region. It equips participants with practical tools to understand public policy dimensions, lead institutional change, and balance present needs with future visions.

Course Objectives

- Understand the relationship between leadership and public policy design.
- Analyze institutional and political change challenges.
- Apply effective planning strategies for managing change.
- Strengthen negotiation and communication skills to support decisions.
- Develop the ability to manage diverse stakeholders.
- Use practical models to evaluate and redesign policies.
- Build long-term strategies for leading change.
- Enhance critical thinking and decision-making in unstable environments.
