Time & Stress Management for Managers

Code: PS28 From: 3 - 7 November 2025 City: Paris (France) Fees: 4400 Pound

Introduction

In the fast-paced world of life and business, it is becoming increasingly important to reduce stress and operate with heightened sensory awareness. Most people deny that they are stressed or influenced by internal or external factors. However, the most important resource you have is not money or material things - it is TIME. You cannot save time, you cannot stop it, and it will eventually run out. So, why not learn how to use it effectively? As the cost of stress to employers continues to rise, organizations must recognize stress in their employees and train management to address it productively. Recent surveys show that 1 in 5 people report their work to be very or extremely stressful, citing the nature of the work, relationships at work, or their employer as the cause.

Course Objectives

- Actively identify and reduce stress in yourself and others.
- Develop strategies for managing your most valuable resource—TIME.
- Take control of your state of mind and boost productivity.
- Maximize performance and motivation at work.
- Improve overall health and happiness.
- Achieve positive economic impacts on both individual and team performance.

Course Outlines

Day 1: Managing Yourself

- Investing time and effort to achieve more in the future.
- Time management behaviors: Identifying your preferred working styles.
- Personal effectiveness: A guide to self-discipline.
- Highlighting personal "time stealers" and areas of weakness.
- Managing your job: Managing yourself and available resources.

Day 2: Managing Others & Meetings

- Managing people: Working with managers, colleagues, team members, and customers.
- Getting more done through assertive behavior.
- Making the most of meetings as a participant or chairperson.
- Practical Time Management & Planning Activities:
  - Effective use of diaries, time planners, and time logs.
  - Criteria for prioritizing—urgent vs. important tasks.
  - Planning and scheduling your activities effectively.
  - Managing interruptions and staying focused.
  - Managing time under pressure.
