Code: NC28 From: 2 - 6 November 2025 City: Istanbul (Turkey) Fees: 4600 Pound

Introduction

The Public Policy, Governance, and Administration program is designed for public service employees who are keen to understand the creation and implementation of public policies. This course helps participants learn what governments do, why they do it, and how they should implement policies effectively. There are no formal prerequisites for this course, which is intended to provide participants with the knowledge, analytical skills, and tools necessary to think critically about public policy making and its implementation. This course will benefit those who have chosen a career in the public service, as well as those who wish to increase their awareness of public policy making and administration.

Course Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Describe the characteristics of public bureaucracy and understand its role in the public policy process.
- Compare classic Weberian bureaucracy with the modern public bureaucracy promoted by New Public Management NPM.
- Explain the role of bureaucratic, political, and non-state actors in the policy-making process.
- Contrast different policy instruments and service delivery mechanisms used in policy implementation and analyze factors influencing successful implementation.
- Understand the concept of accountability and discuss approaches to ensuring ethics in public administration.
- Comprehend the impact of social diversity on public policy making and its effects on the "differential impact" of policies.
