Client Service for Government Employees

Code: NC28 From: 16 - 20 March 2026 City: Baku Fees: 5100 Pound

Introduction

The importance of providing excellent customer service is widely recognized in the commercial, for-profit world, but it is equally critical in the public sector. Citizens today expect the same levels of responsiveness and service they receive from private businesses, such as 24/7 availability, from government agencies as well.

The Customer Service for the Public Sector training course is specifically designed to equip participants with essential communication skills, negotiation strategies, and best practices in public sector customer service. This training will enable public sector employees to significantly enhance service quality, reduce costs, and improve employee satisfaction. Upon completing this course, participants will be able to measure customer satisfaction and apply design elements to structure their organizations in a customer-centric manner, ensuring they can adapt as customer service needs evolve.

Course Objectives

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Develop a proactive customer service strategy with clear policies and procedures.
- Effectively manage four types of customer personalities to improve communication.
- Handle upset or difficult customers both over the phone and in person.
- Maintain emotional control in stressful situations.
- Improve listening and questioning skills to better understand customer needs.
- Set SMART goals to continually enhance customer service satisfaction.
- Apply best practices in public sector customer service to improve outcomes.
