Code: HM28 From: 3 - 7 November 2025 City: Accra (Ghana) Fees: 4000 Pound

Introduction

Effective leadership in healthcare and hospital management are integral to the success of any healthcare organization. This course is designed to develop both management and leadership skills necessary for today's dynamic and fast-paced hospital environments. Whether you're a hospital administrator, manager, or aspiring healthcare leader, this training equips you with essential tools to enhance your management capabilities and leadership potential. By focusing on the key competencies for managing healthcare teams, overcoming business challenges, and fostering a motivated workforce, this course prepares participants for real-world challenges in hospital management and sets them on a path toward medical leadership development.

Through this course, participants will gain a comprehensive understanding of the various functions of management in hospitals, the importance of clinical leadership in the hospital setting, and the fundamental principles of hospital risk management. Leadership in the healthcare industry requires not only technical skills but also the ability to lead with empathy, vision, and strategic insight. This course helps bridge the gap between leadership theory and practical application in healthcare settings.
