Certified ISO 9001 Lead Auditor

Code: QM28 From: 3 - 7 August 2026 City: London (UK) Fees: 4400 Pound

Introduction

The ISO 9001 Lead Auditor training is designed to provide participants with the essential skills and knowledge required to perform effective Quality Management System QMS audits in compliance with ISO standards. This course equips you with the expertise to plan, manage, and execute both internal and external audits for ISO 9001, following the guidelines outlined in ISO 19011 and the certification processes described in ISO/IEC 17021-1.

This ISO 9001 certification course includes practical exercises that will help you master the key auditing techniques, allowing you to confidently lead audit teams, communicate with clients, and resolve conflicts. Once you acquire the necessary skills and knowledge, you will be eligible to sit for the ISO 9001 Lead Auditor exam and earn the "PECB Certified ISO 9001 Lead Auditor" credential. By obtaining this certification, you will demonstrate your competence in auditing organizations based on international best practices in Quality Management Systems.

Course Objectives

The ISO 9001 Lead Auditor training is structured to ensure you gain the competence to effectively perform ISO 9001 audits. By the end of this course, you will:

- Understand the operations of a Quality Management System QMS as per ISO 9001 and its role in improving organizational performance.
- Recognize the interrelationship between ISO 9001 and other regulatory frameworks, enhancing your ability to navigate complex auditing environments.
- Grasp the auditor's role in planning, conducting, and following up on a QMS audit, according to the ISO 19011 auditing guidelines.
- Learn how to lead an audit and manage an audit program ISO 9001 effectively, including team leadership and client communications.
- Develop the ability to interpret the requirements of ISO 9001 during an audit, ensuring compliance and identifying areas of improvement.
- Acquire the competencies needed to draft comprehensive audit reports, manage an ISO 9001 audit cycle, and follow up on nonconformities.
