Advanced Transfer Pricing Benchmarking

Code: FA28 From: 3 - 7 November 2025 City: Düsseldorf (Germany) Fees: 4200 Pound

Introduction

In today's global economy, transfer pricing has become a critical focus area for multinational companies and tax authorities. Properly structured transfer pricing policies are essential for ensuring compliance with global transfer pricing regulations, avoiding disputes, and mitigating financial risks.

The Advanced Transfer Pricing Benchmarking course is a specialized training program designed to equip professionals with the knowledge and skills necessary to master transfer pricing methodologies, apply benchmark pricing strategies, and align intercompany transactions with arm's length standards. Through in-depth exploration of benchmark pricing and transfer pricing agreements, participants will gain the confidence to handle audits, document transactions, and address emerging challenges in the evolving regulatory landscape.

Course Objectives

- Understand the fundamentals of transfer pricing: Learn what transfer pricing is, its significance, and the principles behind it.
- Master advanced transfer pricing methodologies: Dive into techniques like the transactional net margin method TNMM and the comparable uncontrolled price CUP method.
- Apply benchmark pricing strategies: Develop proficiency in using benchmark pricing and comparability adjustments for accurate pricing strategies.
- Explore transaction-level and whole-entity approaches: Understand how to integrate transactional benchmarking with holistic profitability analysis.
- Enhance documentation practices: Gain insights into transfer pricing documentation requirements and best practices for creating defensible reports.
- Mitigate risks and manage audits: Learn to identify potential risks and handle audits of transfer pricing effectively.
- Address emerging trends in global transfer pricing: Stay updated on transfer pricing policies, BEPS initiatives, and digital transformations impacting the field.
