Financial Transactions – Benchmarking for Transfer Pricing Analysis

Code: FA32 From: 10 - 14 January 2027 City: Dubai (UAE) Fees: 4200 Pound

Introduction

As global tax scrutiny intensifies, financial transactions between related parties are receiving increased attention from tax authorities worldwide. Ensuring that such transactions—whether loans, bonds, debentures, preference shares, or guarantees—are priced at arm's length is now a regulatory imperative.

This comprehensive course equips participants with a deep understanding of transfer pricing for financial transactions, aligning with OECD Guidelines and local tax laws. Designed for tax executives, financial controllers, transfer pricing specialists, and compliance officers across diverse sectors—such as oil & gas, banking, telecommunications, government, and more—the course provides a strategic blend of theoretical principles and practical applications.

Whether you're developing defensible documentation or conducting benchmarking analysis, this training will empower you to enhance compliance, minimize audit risks, and apply industry-standard methodologies confidently.

Course Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand the transfer pricing framework related to intra-group financial transactions.
- Identify and evaluate a range of financial instruments such as intercompany loans, bonds, and guarantees.
- Apply advanced benchmarking techniques to determine arm's length pricing.
- Conduct functional and risk analysis for financial transactions within multinational groups.
- Prepare robust transfer pricing documentation aligned with OECD and local standards.
- Leverage industry tools and databases e.g., Bloomberg, Refinitiv for comparables analysis.
- Distinguish between legal form and economic substance in transaction structuring.
- Navigate regulatory environments including thin capitalization and safe harbor rules.
