Audit and Foreign Exchange Reserves Management Process

Code: QM28 From: 22 - 26 June 2026 City: Cape Town ( South Africa) Fees: 3300 Pound

Introduction

In today's global economy, effective management of foreign exchange reserves is crucial for maintaining a stable financial environment. This course is designed to provide in-depth knowledge on the key processes involved in identifying, measuring, assessing the probability of, and prioritizing risks associated with reserves management. Participants will learn the essentials of managing foreign reserves and will also examine how to assess the quality of control procedures and protocols related to foreign exchange management.

The course offers an opportunity to explore foreign exchange reserve management, central bank reserve management, and delve into the audit process involved in monitoring and controlling these reserves. Furthermore, attendees will share their operational risk management frameworks, learning from peers on how their internal audit functions assess risks and control measures in reserve management.

Course Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Implement a full-fledged risk-based auditing approach in foreign exchange reserve management.
- Assess the adequacy of foreign reserves and develop strategies to optimize reserve levels.
- Understand the use of financial instruments in reserve management and portfolio management.
- Develop strategies for controlling market and credit risk in reserves management.
- Understand investment guidelines and use strategic benchmarking for effective reserve management.
- Enhance performance measurement techniques to evaluate reserves effectively.
- Learn the audit process for monitoring reserve management performance, with a specific focus on foreign exchange reserves.
