International Trade Finance & ICC Banking Rules

Code: FA32 From: 8 - 12 March 2027 City: Casablanca (Morocco) Fees: 4200 Pound

Introduction

The International Trade Finance & ICC Banking Rules course is an intensive five-day professional program designed to provide participants with a practical and in-depth understanding of international trade finance operations. The course focuses on the correct application of ICC banking rules, including UCP 600, ISP98, and URR 725, which form the backbone of documentary credits, standby letters of credit, and reimbursement arrangements used globally by banks and financial institutions.

This program bridges theory and practice by emphasizing real-world trade transactions, compliance requirements, risk management, and best banking practices. Through applied case studies, document analysis, and interactive discussions, participants develop the skills needed to handle trade finance operations with confidence, accuracy, and regulatory awareness.

Course Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand the structure, scope, and purpose of ICC banking rules in international trade.
- Correctly apply UCP 600, ISP98, and URR 725 in documentary credits, standby L/Cs, and reimbursement transactions.
- Identify, assess, and manage trade finance risks, including documentary discrepancies.
- Improve document examination, compliance, and operational accuracy.
- Enhance decision-making and problem-solving in trade finance operations.
