Introduction

Organizations across the Middle East and North Africa are experiencing rapid shifts in workforce expectations, operational demands, and leadership responsibilities. As workplaces continue to evolve, leaders are increasingly required not only to manage tasks, but to cultivate environments that promote engagement, strengthen performance, and support sustainable growth. These changes create a pressing need for modern coaching approaches that help leaders empower their teams, address performance challenges, and build cultures grounded in trust, collaboration, and continuous development.

The Coaching for Engagement and Performance Certification offers a structured, practice-based pathway for leaders, team supervisors, and operational professionals who aim to elevate the quality of leadership within their organizations. It is designed for individuals across multiple sectors—including oil and gas, financial services, telecommunications, government entities, human resources, project management, marketing, and sales—who wish to advance their strategic influence and empower their teams through effective coaching.

This certification helps participants develop coaching skills that drive meaningful engagement, unlock employee potential, and strengthen overall performance. It also equips them with practical techniques for conducting one-on-one development discussions, delivering supportive feedback, identifying growth opportunities, and addressing performance gaps in a constructive and sustainable manner.
